- C. GPA Scoring:

- GPA Score: 0 / 10
- Reason: GPA is not in the required format.

- D. Essay Scoring:

- The essay is in English and exceeds 1000 words.
- Logic and Reasoning: 14 / 20. The essay presents a clear overview of LLMs and their impact on software development, but some arguments could be more deeply explored.
- Structural Coherence: 8 / 10. The essay is well-organized with a clear introduction, body, and conclusion. The flow of ideas is generally smooth.
- Language Complexity: 7 / 10. The essay demonstrates good vocabulary and sentence variety, but could benefit from more sophisticated language use.
- Total Essay Score: 29 / 40

- 3. Alignment with Program Goals:

The applicant's background in Information Systems and the essay on LLMs demonstrate an interest in technology. However, the lack of coursework in business and economics may not fully align with the program's focus on management and digital technology.

- 4. Strengths:

- Strong background in Computer Science.
- Demonstrated interest in emerging technologies like LLMs.
- Well-written essay showcasing understanding of the chosen topic.

- 5. Gaps or Weak Areas:

- Insufficient ECTS credits.
- Lack of coursework in Business Management, Economics, Empirical Research Methods, and Operations Research.
- GPA format is not provided.

- 6. Overall Recommendation & Final Decision:

- Total Score = $(5 + 0 + 29) = 34$
- Final Decision: REJECTED
- Confidence Level: High
- Summary Justification:
 - The applicant is rejected because the total ECTS credits (116) are less than the required 140.
 - Additionally, the total score is below the minimum threshold of 70. The applicant's lack of coursework in key areas like Business Management, Economics, and Empirical Research Methods significantly weakens their application.
